Holidays and Vacation Leave

5. (1) In addition to the minimum weekly rest to which whole-time employees may be entitled under paragraph 9, whole-time employees shall be entitled to the National Holidays and to all public holidays with full pay, and to the following vacation leave not being less than:-

- (a) four working weeks and one working day during the calendar years 1988 and 1989;
- (b) four working weeks and two working days during the calendar year 1990;
- (c) four working weeks and three working days during the calendar year 1991;
- (d) four working weeks and four working days during the calendar year 1992 and during any calendar year thereafter:

Provided that when a whole-time employee is in employment for less than twelve months during any calendar year, he shall be entitled to such part of the said vacation leave as is in proportion to the number of months in employment.

(2) For the purpose of this paragraph "vacation leave" means leave with pay which may be availed of on days agreed upon between the employer and the employee, provided that one day vacation leave during 1988 and 1989, two days vacation leave during 1990, three days vacation leave during 1991 and four days vacation leave during 1992 and during any calendar year thereafter shall not form part of any shutdown and shall be granted by the employer as optional leave in addition to any optional leave the employee may have been entitled to on the 9th November, 1988.

Sick Leave

6. (1) After six months of continuous service, a whole-time employee shall in every calendar year be entitled to the equivalent in hours of fifteen days sick leave on full pay, less an amount equal to the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act, and part time employees shall have a pro rata entitlement to sick leave in hours on full pay, less an amount equal to the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act, which amount is also to be calculated on a pro rata basis:

Provided that -

- (a) the first three days of any claim for sick leave shall be paid in full

by the employer;

(b) a medical certificate covering the period of absence is produced to the employer on the day of return to work or, if such period of absence is longer than seven days, within seven days of the onset of sick leave absence;

(c) employees in receipt of a social security pension in respect of retirement or widowhood in terms of the Social Security Act shall, for the purpose of calculating the sick leave pay due, be deemed to have received an amount equal to the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act.

(2) After six months of continuous service, a whole-time employee shall in every calendar year be entitled to the equivalent in hours of a further period of fifteen days sick leave on half pay, less an amount equal to half the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act, and part time employees shall have a pro rata entitlement to sick leave in hours on half pay, less an amount equal to half the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act, which amount is also to be calculated on a pro rata basis:

Provided that –

(a) the first three days of any claim for sick leave shall be paid at half pay by the employer;

(b) a medical certificate covering the period of absence is produced to the employer on the day of return to work or, if such period of absence is longer than seven days, within seven days of the onset of sick leave absence;

(c) employees in receipt of a social security pension in respect of retirement or widowhood in terms of the Social Security Act shall, for the purpose of calculating the sick leave pay due, be deemed to have received an amount equal to half the sum set for sickness benefit entitlement at the rate established under the Social Security Act.

(3) The employer may require a medical certificate by his own physician to certify incapacity for work during the period of absence.

(4) For the purpose of this paragraph, an interruption of employment of not more than two months shall not be deemed to break the continuity of service.

(5) The sick leave entitlement granted by virtue of this paragraph shall be calculated on the basis provided for annual leave as specified in regulation 8(1) of the Organisation of Working Time Regulations.

Minimum Daily Rest

7. All whole-time employees, other than watchmen, shall be allowed adequate intervals for meals and rest of one hour in the aggregate of any day of which the hours of work exceed six and a half.

Minimum Weekly Rest

8. All whole-time employees, other than watchmen, shall be allowed Sunday as a day of rest in every week.

Bereavement Leave

9. All whole-time employees shall be allowed two days leave on the occasion of the death of any of the following relatives: the wife, husband, father, mother, (or the person who at the time was in fact acting as the father or mother), son, daughter, brother, sister of the employee.

Other Leave

10. (a) A whole-time employee shall be allowed three days leave on full pay on the occasion of his marriage, and two day leave on full pay on the birth of a child to his wife.

(b) A whole-time employee shall be entitled to up to ten (10) days study leave in any one year on full pay to obtain a certificate in his trade:

Provided that study leave will be approved subject to the production of the necessary information about the certificate in question by the employee and that he will be bound to work for at least three months with the company after the results are published. Such study leave is not to be availed of more than twice for the same certificate;

Provided further that if the employee opts to terminate his employment before three months have elapsed, the employee is bound to pay to his employer the sum of money equal to the wages that have been paid to him in respect of the number of days availed of as study leave.

Jury Service Leave

11. A whole-time employee shall, if called upon to serve as juror, be allowed time off as necessary, without any deduction from pay to which he would otherwise have been entitled, so as to enable him to attend his duties at the Courts.

Injury Leave

12. A whole-time employee shall be entitled to one year injury leave on full pay, less the full amount of any injury benefit to which such employee may be entitled under the Social Security Act, 1987, in respect of any injury suffered by him during the actual discharge of his duty but not due to any contributory negligence on his part.

For the purpose of this paragraph, a break in employment of not more than two months shall not be deemed to break the continuity of service.

Waiting Time

13. An employee shall be entitled to the payment of the minimum wages applicable to him for all time during which he is present on the vessel or ship of his employer or elsewhere unless he is present thereon in any of the following circumstances:-

- (a) without the employer's consent, expressed or implied;
- (b) for some purpose unconnected with his work and other than that of waiting for work to be given to him to perform;
- (c) by reason only of the fact that he is resident thereon;

Retiring Age

14. In cases where the retiring age of a male employee is expected at the age of 60 years, such employee shall be given the opportunity by his employer to retain his employment beyond this age at least until the age of 61 years, provided that the employee in question shall still be allowed, if he so wishes to retire at the age of 60 years.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order but is intended to indicate its applicability)

The above provisions apply to all employees on board ships regularly operating within the territorial waters of Malta, but do not apply to employees working on board fishing vessels or foreign going ships.
